This is Hazel, she is a 15yr old Appaloosa mare. She has been through the barrel pattern at a trot, she has had basic ground work, she is amazing on the trail, goes through water, stands for farrier and vet, has been cleared by my vet. UTD on coggins, shots and dewormer. She is NOT for a beginner. She can be pushy sometimes but once corrected she is fine. She doesn't like the arena but will put up with it. She prefers to be out on the trails. I haven't taken her around cows but she lets me open gates on her and she would make a great ranch mare. Stands for mounting, saddling, grooming and bridling. Opens her mouth for bit and doesn't fight it. She needs someone who can take her further. I love her and I would keep her but we don't work well together. She has had multiple riders on her and they do good but we just don't work good as a team. She is a great mare but previous owners let her get away with everything and I have been fixing her problems. She can have attitude but she is getting better.
