I'm a beginner and I ride her .

I wouldn't suggest another beginner ride her until she's been through more training. Her only negative is she doesn't have a good stop. She also pulls on the ground when being led.

She is very sweet and loves attention.

She's been down the rode , through the mountains, though the river .

Acts more like a horse than a mule.

Will only trade for a beginner safe horse that has been in the mountains.

I love this mule but I don't think I know enough about mules to own one.

She is seriously so sweet. Any questions just ask.
