Moore's Poco Bear is a 14.2+hh, Palomino Registered Quarter horse gelding that is super stocky built weighing 1100lbs and stout enough to carry any rider. He is 11 years old and has experience upon experience and his best years are ahead of him! He has been used in around cattle but Bear's main job has been on the trails and he has been trail ridden in multiple states and he has seen everything possible on the trails. He will cross creeks, ditches, logs and navigate rough rocky areas. He is safe riding in traffic whether that be semi-trucks or cars. He has a smooth jog, a nice lope, he stops nicely and will back! Bear is not a hot or forward type of horse, he is slow and easy and is always the same whether ridden daily or once a month. He has been exposed to all kinds of wildlife such as deer or turkey or other animals like cows or dogs and will go anywhere that he is asked to. He has been rode many miles in the mountains of Eastern Kentucky and encountered every obstacle possible on the trail. He will go up or down even the steepest slopes, across deep creeks, over downed trees, and over all types of rough terrain while still being sure footed. Here is one Bear that you are glad to see on the trails! Feel free to call Jake - Click here to reveal phone number - with any questions!

To whom it may concern:

A wellness exam was performed on Poco Bear, a Palomino gelding, 11 years old, Quarter Horse Gelding on 2-2-21. His overall physical exam was within normal limits and no abnormalities were found on his hooves. He was sound at a walk and a trot. Heart and lungs sounded normal and his temperature was 99.1. He showed to be perfectly suitable for trail riding.

Sincerely,

Gary A. Hamlin
