Description

Elena is 14 years old Tennessee Walker and stands at 15 hands. Does parades and trails, she is very smooth, doesn't spook at wildlife, crosses water, logs, will go up and down anything. Will ride alone or in a group (front ,middle,or back ). I was told by the previous owner she does well on a picket line and has done overnight rides as well. When I bought her I planned on using her as a beginner lesson horse but as time has passed she has proved to be a little much for beginners. When I bought her she was really skinny and underfed and the first few times I rode her she was slow and simply didn't have energy. As I have put weight on her she has become more and more forward and spunky. She wants to move the minute you put the saddle on, she is cinchy, has crow hopped a few times, and is buddy sour. She doesn't bite or kick. She just needs work and I am trying to switch over to drafts and would like her off my hands as soon as I can. She gets along well with geldings and mares
