"Sammy" is a good-looking black Missouri Fox Trotter gelding. He is built like a quarter horse and is 14.3 the perfect size for trail riding. This sweet boy is gentle and safe for about any level rider. He has been on many hunt rides in the northwest and can handle anything that you throw at him. He is sure-footed on even the more challenging trails. He will walk on a loose rein with quarter horses and he has a wonderful foxtrot with a natural head shake. He has a soft lope like a quarter horse. He can go for months without riding him and he will be the same gentle broke horse when you ride him again. He has an easy-going disposition. He gets along with other horses. He stands quiet for mounting and loads and hauls the best.
