Description

I think I'm finally ready to let my little pony move on to a youth rider.

Lucy is 4 year old registered Quarter Pony, she's 14hh, maybe 14.1 on a good day.

She was professionally started and trained, extremely well behaved, well trained and very, very broke.

I have put miles upon miles on her.

I have videos upon videos of her doing all kinds of shenanigans.

She is quiet, gentle and very personable.

Does have more go than woah.

Lucy knows the barrel pattern well, poles and has hauled out and shown for experience with both but I would not call her finished.

She jumps, rides English or western.

Has hauled out all over creation, trail ridden, road ridden.

No vices at all.

She's even an easy keeper!

She's great for the farrier, she's great for the chiro. Everyone who handles Lucy loves her and talks very highly of her.

She's not herd bound, or barn sour.

Lucy is an all around one of a kind fantastic little pony but I myself am ready to step up to something a little bigger again.

Lucy lunges, trailers, bathes, ties, leads, side passes, moves entirely off of seat and leg, rides alone or in a group.

You can open doors, gates off of her back.

She rides double and has participated in "rescue race" at the rodeo.

PPE welcomed at buyers expense, available to try on site or haul out.

This is one you don't want to miss because it's hard to find!

Lucy means the world to me so a good home is a must and I would never in my life sell such a gem if she wasn't so short lol.

Lucy is hobble trained, has been used as a photography prop for total beginners who have never handled horses before.
